

CONNETIX®

Where play and learning connect

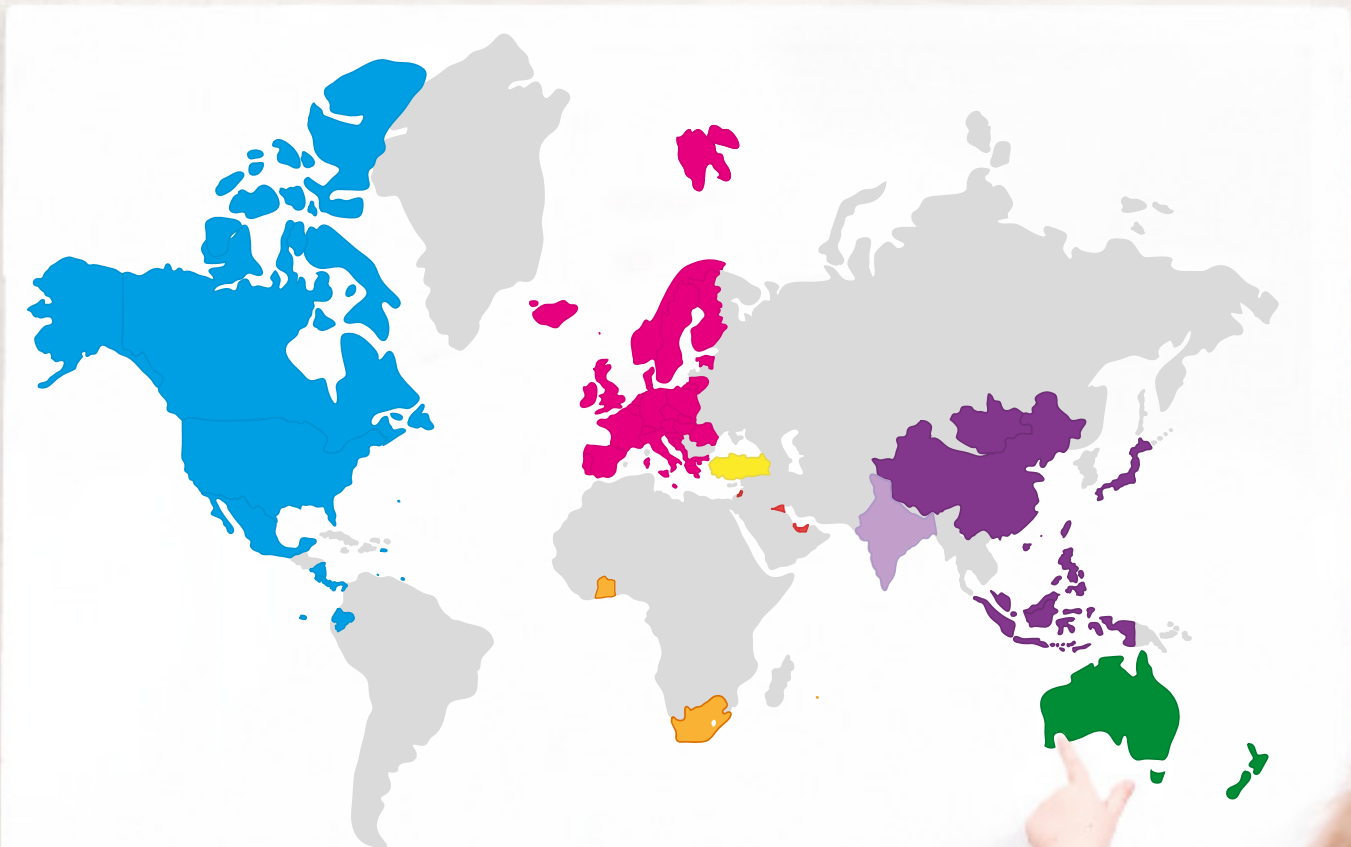

WHY CONNETIX?

We are an Australian business run by two families who value the power of high-quality, open-ended resources in supporting children as they learn and develop.

As parents and family friends, we combined our expertise as an accomplished, master certified teacher and skilled mechanical designer to launch CONNETIX - magnetic tiles that are strong, offer clearer refractions and promote learning through play!

THE CONNETIX DIFFERENCE

Superior quality & safety

CONNETIX tiles are made from non-toxic ABS plastic that is BPA, lead and phthalate free. Our unique beveled design means stronger tiles that create beautiful light refractions around your child's creation.

At CONNETIX, our mission is to create a world where play and learning connect. We strive to provide consumers with open-ended learning opportunities through our high-quality STEAM accredited toys, fostering creativity, critical thinking, and problem-solving skills for a wide range of ages and abilities.

We aim to raise awareness with families, educators and allied health professionals of the importance of harnessing resources that promote fun, education and open-ended play during both child-led play at home and learning within education settings.

By partnering with CONNETIX you can expect:

A dedicated support team for retailer support and customer service.

Reseller details added to the CONNETIX store locator on the website to direct customers to their nearest retailer.

CONNETIX follows our retail partners on social media. By following our retailers on Instagram we provide an additional touch point for customers to find our products in-store.

Option for FOB from China or distribution direct from any of our global warehouses.

WHERE PLAY AND LEARNING CONNECT

'As an experienced, masters qualified Early Childhood Educator and mother of three, I am incredibly passionate about children learning through play and the power of open-ended resources. Passion for learning extends throughout CONNETIX, as many of the CONNETIX team are parents and/or masters qualified educators also. This unique expertise alongside feedback from customers and educators allows us to expand our range of products and educational resources, ensuring CONNETIX continues to be a valued resource to support play and learning for years to come.' - Brea

“As a preschool teacher I have had some experience with magnetic tiles. You get what you pay for. Beware of the cheap ones on Amazon, they break. Tiny magnets and children is scary. These will last forever - they're the good quality, durable blocks I was hoping they would be. I could forsee these lasting in a classroom or home for multiple generations of kids. They are oh so much fun and brightly coloured for unlimited fun! ”

— Anonymous Reviewer

“I cannot highly enough rate how good this company is at customer service. The very best I have received from anyone in a long time. Their product is fantastic and my three grandsons love them. Well made, well priced and customer service second to none. Would recommend Dave and his team to anyone. ”

— Michael W.

“As a school social worker, these are one of my favourite bins in my office. Kids get excited and their creativity really shows while building with these blocks. They are versatile, heavy duty, and connect easy. I love when students pick them up because it gives me a chance to join in on the fun! ”

— Hannah

“Such a fun and amazing open-ended resource for little ones to help to learn about shapes, patterns, building. We absolutely LOVE them at home and in the classroom. ”

— Jenny.P

“Love these tiles! The magnet is strong and they are durable. Their customer service was great and shipping was fast. ” — Oralia C.

“We absolutely love our CONNETIX tiles! The vibrant, bold colours instantly grab my kids' attention and spark their creativity. It's amazing to see how they've taken inspiration from the buildings and barns they've seen in real life and reimagined them in entirely new ways using the tiles. They don't just build - they experiment, problem-solve, and push their imagination to new heights. We also use CONNETIX as a fun, hands-on tool during our review time. It's the perfect way to incorporate maths and science into learning, whether we're exploring geometry, angles, or basic engineering principles. Whether it's stacking, connecting, or designing intricate structures, the kids are always excited to try new designs, test their theories, and see what they can build next. It's not just play - it's learning in the most engaging way possible, and everyone can't get enough of it! ”

BACKED BY RETAILERS, LOVED BY ALL

“CONNETIX tiles are very popular. Parents purchase tiles for their children the same way they would purchase a bike – they're an essential toy. They are known for their quality and the brand is well recognised, so there is a strong social following and an active online community.

I have found CONNETIX really nice to work with from the start. They ship quickly, they're always available for questions, and they treat all retailers equally regardless of size. ”

— Barbara | Happy Gift Company

Northern California, USA

“I'm Kath, the owner of Milk Tooth. CONNETIX is one of my favourite brands. I sell a lot of it and find it very easy to do so, for a number of reasons. Firstly, it's a simply wonderful open-ended toy. Children can start playing with it immediately and it's super versatile in terms of the ways in which it can be used – for towers, ball runs, pretend play, learning, and so much more. This means kids can keep using it in different ways as they get older, so it's a toy that keeps on giving. ”

— Kath Vaughn | Milk Tooth

Lake Macquarie, Australia

“CONNETIX tiles are the perfect addition to our product list as they encourage open-ended play which is popular here in the Netherlands. They have a great social following which creates hype around the brand – creating exciting Instagram reels for example, and they are great quality.

As a supplier, CONNETIX provide a quality product and good customer service. I would recommend other toy stores to become resellers of CONNETIX Tiles as they are the perfect open-ended toy, suitable for all ages and have great expansion packs. ”

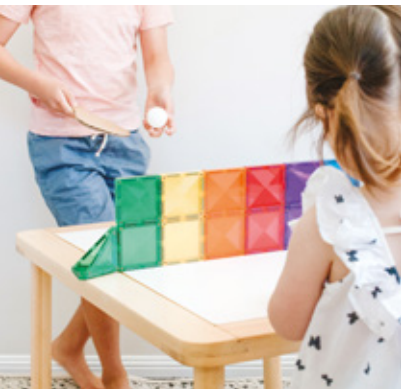

— Katinka Disch | Kinder Wonderland

Budel, The Netherlands

“CONNETIX are a great open-ended toy that is loved by both kids and adults. We always have customers who come back to buy more sets to complement what they already have and new customers who discover the wonders of magnetic tiles. I have found that they are definitely the most sought-after magnetic tile brand. It is an excellent product with endless possibilities, and I personally am a big fan of CONNETIX, and my 3-year-old son loves them. CONNETIX also have a great support team who are always there for us. Our partnership helps us to deliver an excellent customer experience to our lovely community. ”
